COURSE	LESSON	TEACHER	DESCRIPTION
Slide Guitar	Delta Blues Licks in Open G	Greg Horne	"Okay, peoples, it's time to get seriously down home with your slide playing." This lesson has some more advanced Delta blues-style finger picking in open G tuning, based on the sounds of Son House, Robert Johnson, and Fred McDowell. You'll learn how to put together a solo groove on a G chord, then how to make it into a whole 12-bar blues song. For this one, you'll need to put down your pick, pick up your slide, get into open G, and get rollin'.
Slide Guitar	Licks, Tricks and Special Effects in Open G	Greg Horne	What does an introduction to slide playing have in common with movies about aliens? Neither would be complete without a few special effects. In this lesson, you'll get some new tricks that come from lap steel playing, Hawaiian music, and the wizardry of Sonny Landreth. This lesson is in open G tuning, but contains techniques that apply to any tuning. So what do you say we beam up and get started?
